Check the Standard Blog Page for Product Updates and Service Info

Since launching the new web site in 2015, we have been working on building a Blog page with information on new products, design concepts, special projects, and industry related news. There are plenty of articles that provide more detailed information on optional features, troubleshooting change machine error codes and some of our "worst kept secrets".

Click on the BLOGS TAB ON OUR WEB SITE or click here:

Likewise, take a look at the SERVICE tab, for links to "Frequently Asked Questions" (http://www.standardchange.com/page_faq.html) and a page that has the Installation Instructions and Owner's Manuals (http://www.standardchange.com/page_manuals.html) for our machines. You'll find plenty of information on these links to help you with customer questions.
