STANDARD INTRODUCES REDESIGNED MODULAR SERIES “CREDIT CARD or CASH-to-TOKEN” CHANGE MACHINES

(Indianapolis, IN) – Standard Change-Makers, Inc., a leading manufacturer of currency change machines, is pleased to introduce our newly redesigned “Credit Card or Cash-to-Token” change machines as part of the Modular Series line.

The machine is a variation of our new MC520RL-DA machine that features both Bill Acceptance and Credit Card Acceptance – and can dispense Tokens or fanfold Tickets. This rear load cabinet design features four (4) push-button, pre-select package options. The machine owner can program their pay-out packages with the included Expanded Function (EF) Module. The customers merely push the button corresponding to the package they want to purchase – then swipe their credit card, or deposit the appropriate bills. When the card is approved, or the proper monies have been inserted, the machine dispenses the selected number of tokens or tickets. An LED screen on the face of the machine advises the status of the transaction.

Likewise, a “Pulse Selection” version is also available. This version allows the customers to incrementally add tokens/tickets until they reach the level they wish to purchase. The LED display shows the amount required, and the customer simply inserts their credit card or the monies required to start the transaction. Change can be returned for cash purchases only.

“We are very excited about the these machines,” reports Mike Coons, Standard’s National Sales Manager. “We have put a lot of time and research into this product. Our customers have been instrumental in telling us what they need these machines to do for them. The versatility of our Modular technology allows us to meet those needs with some very competitive solutions. We think these machines will be very beneficial to the self-service operators that use tokens or tickets, in growing their revenue opportunities.”
